Children's Literary Classics is pleased to announce that the children's picture book, The Growing Sweater, written by Jason J. Marchi and illustrated by Ben Quesnel, has been selected to receive the Children's Literary Classics Seal of Approval. The CLC Seal of Approval is a designation reserved for those books which uphold the rigorous criteria set forth by the Children's Literary Classics review committee, a team comprised of individuals with backgrounds in publishing, editing, writing, illustration and graphic design.

When Granny Quigley knitted a purple sweater with a white lace collar for her granddaughter, Ashley, she never imagined the adventures that would ensue. Ashley loved her sweater, but when it came time to wash it, the sweater grew. It was far too large for Ashley, so she gave the sweater to her older sister, hoping to one day grow into it again. But with each subsequent washing, the sweater became larger and larger, making it ever more challenging to find a use for this magical growing sweater.

The Growing Sweater, by Jason J. Marchi is an imaginative story that will enthrall and delight young readers. Illustrations, by Ben Quesnel, are a wonderful addition to this book which is sure to become a favorite with young readers. Recommended for home and school libraries, this book has earned the Literary Classics Seal of Approval.

*Children's Literary Classics, an organization dedicated to furthering excellence in children's literature, takes great pride in its role to help promote classic children's literature which appeals to youth while educating and encouraging positive values in the impressionable young minds of future generations.
